1. Application Procedure for the Fall Semester (Overview)

(1) Introduction

If you wish to apply for any of the Yokohama National University (YNU) financial support programs listed below, please follow the instructions in these application guidelines to lodge an application and other necessary documents within the designated period.

1) Tuition waiver and deferment

If you have difficulty paying your tuition for financial or other reasons, this program will award you a full or half waiver of your tuition fees after you pass the application screening.

2) Data registration for university-recommended scholarships

To qualify for a university-recommended scholarship provided by one of the scholarship foundations, you need to register your basic data for internal screening. If you apply for such a scholarship, make sure to register your basic data.

(2) Application Schedule & Procedure

The application schedule and procedure are as described below.

1) Application Schedule

Tuition waiver/deferment and data registration for university-recommended scholarships

Application period	From October 4 (Wed), 2023 To 5 pm, October 16 (Mon), 2023	See 2) Application Procedure to submit application.
Deadline for submission of residence card information ("Student" status)	November 30 (Thu), 2023
Announcement of tuition waiver/deferment results	December 20 (Wed), 2023	Applicants will not be notified for the completion of data registration for university-recommended scholarships.

*For students who are expected to obtain their "Student" status of residence or are in the process of renewing it, they are required to follow the application procedure by the deadline for application and to submit their residence card information through the YNU Residence Card Submission Form once they have obtained or renewed their "Student" status of residence by the deadline. If they do not, they will not be granted a tuition waiver, and they will not be registered for university-recommended scholarships. Please consult with us individually if you are in unavoidable circumstances that you cannot submit your residence card information by the deadline.

(3) Application for the Fall Semester

If you made an application in the spring semester for a tuition waiver/ deferment and data registration for university-recommended scholarships, you do not need to submit application documents again in the fall semester. However, since the screening for tuition waiver is conducted every semester, application results for the fall semester are not always the same as those for the spring semester. Make sure to check the announcement results of the fall semester even if you apply in the spring semester.

[Tuition waiver/ deferment]

Please note that if there are any changes as described below* after your application in the spring semester, you will need to resubmit application documents for the fall semester.

* Change to the family structure, study situation, employment situation, or family budget situation occurred to you and/or your family members living in Japan.

Also, if there are any changes as described below* after your application in the spring semester, you are not eligible for a tuition waiver/ deferment in the fall semester.

*You advance to a higher program from the fall semester and are not selected as a prospective recipient at the time of passing the entrance examination (e.g. master's program to doctoral program)

*You plan to take a leave of absence, or graduate/ complete during each semester
(spring: April - September, fall: October – March)

[Data registration for university-recommended scholarships]

If there are any changes as described below* after your application in the spring semester, you will need to resubmit application documents for the fall semester.

*You advance to a higher program from the fall semester (e.g. master's program to doctoral program)

(4) Documents Submitted

Check the necessary documents in the table below and then submit them. Only one copy of each document is enough even if you apply for both programs.

(5) Important Information

- YNU will not allow you to inspect the documents you submit, nor will it lend or return them to you.
- If your application contains any false declarations or your conduct constitutes grounds for disciplinary action, your application or application results may become invalid.
- Information posted on campus bulletin boards and the Student Support Division's website is deemed to have been communicated and received, so you cannot file a protest later on the grounds that you did not see the information posted.
- As a general rule, you will receive messages at the YNU e-mail address if YNU has any inquiries. Please check your YNU email box once a day at least. Please note that if any of the required responses and documents are not submitted by the designated deadline, you may be disadvantaged or your application may be excluded from the screening process.
- You need to apply separately each academic year. The application mentioned in these application guidelines is for the fall semester AY 2023.

2. Tuition Waiver and Deferment

(1) Overview of the Program

If Japanese students or international students have difficulty paying their tuition fees for financial or other reasons, this program will award them a full or half waiver of their tuition fees or allow them to defer payment for a certain period after they pass the application screening.

(2) Application Eligibility

To apply for a tuition waiver/deferment, you are required to meet all of the following eligibility requirements from 1) to 3) , and also one of (a) or (b).

1) Privately financed regular undergraduate or graduate international student at YNU as of October 1st, 2023.

- International students who are sponsored or dispatched by their governments as well as privately financed international students who receive aid for their tuition fees from JICA, the World Bank, foreign governments, or other institutions are not eligible for the YNU Tuition Waiver Program.

2) Have or going to have a "Student" status of residence as prescribed by Japanese law (Immigration Control and Refugee Recognition Act)

3) The "Student" status of residence mentioned in 2) must be valid for the entire semester, or be expected to be renewed.

(a) You have difficulty paying your tuition fees for financial reasons: "General application" category

* If you plan to take a leave of absence, or graduate/ complete during each semester (spring: April - September, fall: October - March), you are not eligible for a tuition waiver/ deferment in that semester.

(b) Your tuition payer living in Japan died or you or your tuition payer suffered wind, flood, or other disaster damage during the previous semester, and you are considered to have significant difficulty in paying your tuition fees: "Application under special circumstances" category

- "During the previous semester" means the period from April 1, 2023, to September 30, 2023, for fall-semester applications.
- "Tuition payer" means the person who is principally responsible for paying your tuition fees. Your tuition payer must be someone from your household who is living in Japan.
- "Wind, flood, or other disaster damage" means damage that occurred in Japan as a general rule and for which a disaster victim certificate or other similar certificates are issued by a public institution.
- If you are to apply under the "Application under special circumstances" category, notify the Financial Support Section, Student Support Division in advance.

(3) Screening Method

Students who fall under the "General application" category need to undergo academic and financial assessments. Students who fall under the "Application under special circumstances" category must undergo a financial assessment.

[Academic assessment]

- An "academic assessment" is based on your academic records for the previous semesters.
- As a general rule, students whose enrollment period (excluding any leave of absence) has exceeded the minimum period required for graduation are not eligible to make an application. However, only if you are enrolled for not more than one year beyond the minimum period required for graduation, you may be considered "eligible", depending on the reason.
- If an academic assessment considers you are not eligible, your application will be "rejected" however difficult your financial situation is.
- The academic assessment criteria for tuition waiver and deferment are as shown below.

Undergraduate Program	Students who have earned at least the standard number of credits* specified by their colleges and received a "good" or a higher grade for at least 60% of their earned credits.
Master's program	Students who have earned at least the standard number of credits* specified by their graduate schools and received a "good" or a higher grade for at least 60% of their earned credits.
Doctoral program	Students recommended by their supervisors.

* See p. 11 for the standard number of credits specified by colleges and graduate schools.

[Financial assessment]

A "financial assessment" is based on the financial situation of the entire household (only your family living in Japan) sharing living expenses with you.

If your family living in Japan has a student, a person with a disability, or a person undergoing long-term medical treatment (limited to persons whose total medical expenses within one year of your application are 200,000 yen or more) or is a single-parent household or a household affected by a disaster, a financial assessment will consider your family situation as long as you submit a document proving it. In these cases, notify the Financial Support Section, Student Support Division.

[Important] Since the waiver budget is limited, some successful applicants may not be awarded a waiver if there are many applicants. In this case, these applicants will be awarded a waiver in order of their academic performance.

(4) Screening Results

For each semester, YNU announces the following screening results: "Full waiver," "Half waiver," or "Rejection."

[Announcement date] Fall semester: Wednesday, December 20, 2023

- The announcement date is tentative and is subject to change depending on the circumstances. If the announcement date is changed, a new date will be announced on the Student Support Division's website.

[Announcement method] Student Information System

<https://risyu.jmk.ynu.ac.jp/WebInfo/p/LogIn.aspx>

(log in to the system with your ID and password)

- To protect personal information, YNU does not post application results on campus bulletin boards. Also, YNU does not send notices of results to individual applicants or accept inquiries by telephone about results.
- If you cannot check your results through the Student Information System, come to the Financial Support Section (Counter No.4, Student Center 2F) with your student card. If you find it difficult to come to the university, please contact them at gakusei.keizai@ynu.ac.jp from your YNU Mail account, with a copy of your student card.

[Payment deadline]

- If you are awarded a full waiver, you do not need to pay your tuition fees.
- For those who are awarded a half waiver or your waiver application is rejected, or those who apply only for a deferment;
 - If your deferment application is rejected or if you apply only for waiver; Your tuition fees will be automatically debited from your registered account on Monday, January 29, 2024 for the fall semester.
 - If your deferment application is accepted; Your tuition fees will be automatically debited from your registered account on Tuesday, February 27, 2024 for the fall semester.

[Important]

- Once you apply for a waiver or deferment, you will not need to pay your tuition fee until the application results are announced.
- Please note that you will be expelled if you fail to pay your tuition fee by the prescribed deadline, so make sure to observe the payment deadline.
- If you apply in the spring semester, make sure to check the announcement of application results in the fall semester. Application results for the fall semester are not always the same as those for the spring semester.

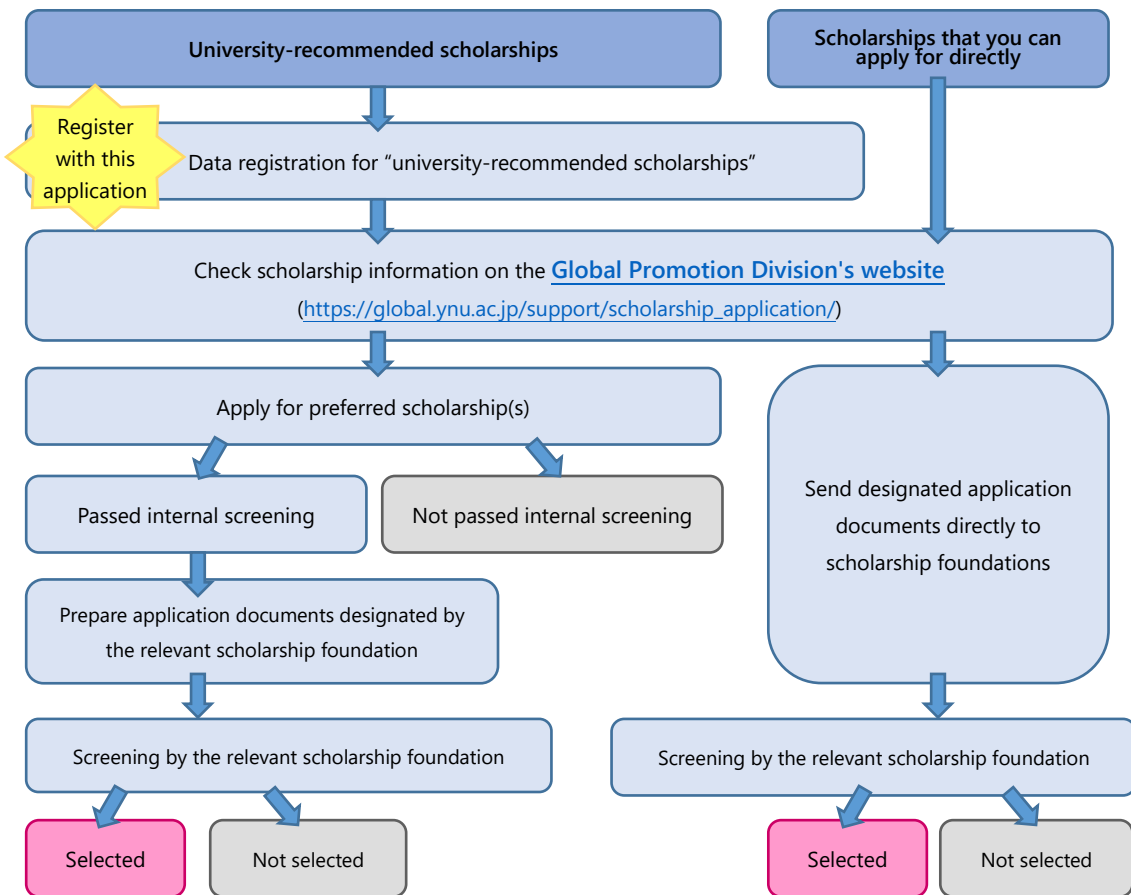

3. Data Registration for university-recommended scholarships

(1) Overview of the Program

Two types of scholarships are available for privately financed international students: University-recommended scholarships, which require a recommendation from the university in order for you to apply, and scholarships you can apply for directly, which allow students to apply directly to scholarship foundations. Data registration for university-recommended scholarships is a program for registering the basic data used in internal screening for scholarships requiring the university's recommendation.

[Important] You cannot apply for a scholarship simply by completing the data registration for university-recommended scholarships. After registration, please check the scholarship information provided on campus bulletin boards or the Student Support Division's website and then submit an application for your preferred scholarship(s) from the designated URL.

Scholarship Application Flow Chart

(2) Registration Period

This registration applies to scholarship applications from the fall semester AY2023 to the beginning of the spring semester AY2024. Make sure to register your data if you wish to apply for university-recommended scholarships for this period. Please note that there are some scholarships that open their application in the academic year 2023-2024 even if the scholarship payments start in or after April 2024.

(3) Application Eligibility

To apply for data registration for university-recommended scholarships, you are required to meet all of the following eligibility requirements.

- 1) Regular YNU undergraduate or graduate student as of October 1, 2023.
- 2) Have or going to have a "Student" status of residence as prescribed by Japanese law (Immigration Control and Refugee Recognition Act)
- 3) The "Student" status of residence mentioned in (2) must be valid for the entire semester or be expected to be renewed.

(4) Screening Method

[Undergraduate programs and master's programs]

The rankings of applicants are determined based on their academic performance (total GPA through the last semester).

[Doctoral program]

The rankings of applicants are determined based on their academic performance, including the publication of peer-reviewed papers and the receipt of awards, as well as their grades for earned credits.

(5) Application Results

There is no announcement of the applicants ranking for data registration for university-recommended scholarships.

Completing data registration for university-recommended scholarships is not enough for applying for a scholarship. After registration, please check the scholarship information provided on the Global Promotion Division's website and apply for your preferred scholarship(s) through the designated online form. Notification of the internal screening results for individual scholarships will be sent by e-mail only to those who pass the screening. See p. 8 for the scholarship application flow chart.
