

Application Guidelines for April 2023 Occupancy
 Yokohama National University International Student Housing
 (International Student House and Minesawa International Student Dormitory)
 Student Support Division, YNU

International Student House and Minesawa International Student Dormitory accepts diverse students not only from Japan but also various countries in the world.

You may be confused by differences in lifestyles and ways of thinking while living together, but it is a good opportunity for the residents to learn diversity, and we expect them to respect each other and grow up together.

1. Eligibility (Should meet conditions below)

- ※Please do not submit applications for more than one dormitory (International Student House, Minesawa International Student Dormitory, Ooka IR and Tokiwadai IR). If applicants apply for Ooka IR and Tokiwadai IR before the announcement of the lottery result or notice for additional occupancy, their application will be cancelled automatically.
- ※Those who are accepted in Yokohama International Student House lose eligibility to apply for YNU student housing.
- ※Occupancy period is 6-month term from April or October. If you stay for even one day during the 6 months, your occupancy record is counted as 6 months.

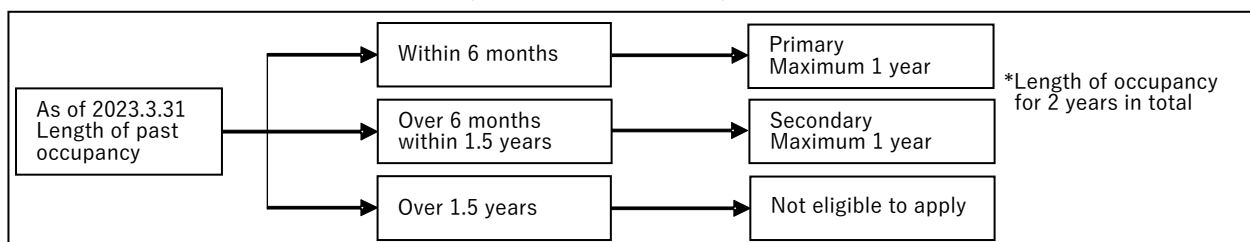

- (1) International students (except Accredited Auditors and Auditors) currently enrolled at Yokohama National University as of April 3, 2023.
 OR International students (except Accredited Auditors and Auditors) scheduled to enroll at Yokohama National University in April 2023.

- ※International students who have eligibility and have lived in housing need to apply for extending period of occupancy.
- ※Students who receive a grant (excluding purpose of research) of exceeding 100,000 yen per month from YNU, dispatching institution or other organizations are not eligible to apply.
- ※Permission to reside in housing will be terminated if the applicant does not enroll in the university in April 2023 or lose YNU student status.
- ※Residents who lose their YNU student status must vacate their student housing.
- ※Note that suspension from the University, leave of absence, or study abroad for a period of three months or more is grounds for disqualification of right to student housing.

- (2) (Primary) Students who have never lived or have lived for 6 months as of March 31, 2023 in the International Student House or Minesawa International Student Dormitory.
 (Secondary) Students who have lived in those two dormitories for one year or one year and six months as of March 31, 2023.

- ※Applicants who have lived in those two dormitories for 6 months or for one year and 6 months as of March 31, 2023, or who are research students (except MEXT students) as of April 2023 can only apply for 6 months occupancy.
- ※Students who have lived in those two dormitories for two years in total are not eligible.
- ※Students who have lived in those two dormitories for one year or one year and six months in total are eligible as secondary applicants and possible to move in if there are still units open after the primary lottery.

- (3) Students who can register the dormitory address as their residence at both the ward office and YNU and besides students who can actually live in the dormitory.
